

Sheep flock to Brussels

Six hundred sheep turned up in Brussels' Bois de la Cambre on September 14 after being herded 160 kilometres from a farm in Limburg. Shepherd Johan Schouteden brought the sheep to town to raise awareness of biodiversity and to coincide with an informal meeting of EU agriculture ministers in the capital. The flock set off from Berlin on June 5 and Schouteden took it over from Dutch colleagues in Maaseik last month.
